While iCity came out as the first innovative city in Egypt & the Middle East by integrating pure nature with world-class innovations & designs, it also became Egypt's premium melting pot of diverse interests and cultures. This is because Mountain View's collaboration with the best architects worldwide resulted in turning 470 feddans into 5 different elevated islands, each with its unique identity and lifestyle, creating a perfect environment for next generations to grow up healthy, creative, and dependable.

Vacations are one of the few things that has no downsides whatsoever. Many studies have shown that they actually lead to lowered stress, improved health, and increased happiness and creativity. But we don't need science to tell us that, we all instinctively know the elating feeling of taking some time off of work and responsibility and enjoy quality time where only ourselves are the priority.
